Congratulations on completing the LSE Summer School 2025

On behalf of LSE, I extend my sincere congratulations on the successful completion of your Summer School course. I am delighted to enclose your official programme certificate. Guidance on accessing your transcript has already been sent to you. 2025 was a momentous year for the programme, we welcomed 8,600 students and professionals to the campus over the 9 weeks with 118 nationalities represented. Together you have experienced the academic excellence and thought leadership of which the LSE is renowned for, coupled with a range of social and cultural experiences in one of the world's most dynamic cities. I hope you took advantage of every opportunity to network and build lasting friendships with your peers.

We are immensely proud to hear that 99% of you would recommend our Summer School to your friends and peers. We always enjoy hearing about your experiences and would encourage you to share your feedback with us, as well as with your Study Abroad Advisors, fellow students and colleagues at home.

Your Summer School experience may be over, but you remain part of the LSE community as a valued member of the Summer School alumni network. Should you choose to join the LSE Summer School in the future, you will benefit from a 15% tuition fee discount. You may also wish to consider our lifelong learning portfolio consisting of short professional executive and online courses for your continued learning.

I wish you all the best in your future endeavours.

Warmest regards,

Larry Kramer
